

Christmas in March!

No, I haven't completely lost my mind...yet, but it IS still Christmas at my house! The garland is still hung (as are the stockings) & the tree is still up & decorated. Yes, if a time traveler landed in my living room, they would think they had traveled only a few months instead of a few years.

Why the strange behavior? Well, a dear friend is getting married in July and like most of us were at age 24, she is grossly lacking in Christmas ornaments & decor for her first Christmas as a married woman. To help her out a little, I offered to give her a Christmas shower complete with all of the traditional Christmas goodies—fruitcake, orange balls, ham, cheese—just the usual munchies that are around the house during the holiday season. And it's certainly not Christmas without a tree, Christmas music, and Christmas wrapping paper. So, that's where we are approaching the 2nd Sunday in Lent—Christmas! I'll get the tree down eventually, but probably not any time soon. It's okay with me. I like it!

Since I didn't get this out last week, I'll include dates for two weeks. Sorry, my life just works that way sometimes.

Now on to important stuff!

Sung to the Tune of God of Grace and God of Glory, here's a "time change" reminder.

God of sleep and God of slumber

Help us not be late, we ask.

Changing clocks one forward number,

May we not forget this task.

Choir directors, preachers, teachers,

All will bless your holy name,

If to Sunday church on time we came.

WEEKLY GIGGLES

Have a great week & call if you need anything!

Serving Him & Loving it!

Carol 😊
