

GOLDEN AGERS

Celebrating Seniors, Enjoying Life & Laughter

VOLUME 7, ISSUE 31

AUGUST 4, 2023

Bargain Hunting Week is Here!

I love a good bargain! Whether it's found at a local thrift store, a garage sale, an estate sale, a flea market, or on the side of the road, I enjoy finding bargains! My husband equates the thrill I get as something akin to the thrill he gets while hunting deer. Yes, I would agree.

He doesn't usually go "hunting" with me, but on a rare occasion we were out of town & a thrift store was on our route. Since we have been married long enough that he knows the things I look for, we split up and he was the first to find a prize. He picked up the parcel & walked to me. My eyes lit up when I saw his cargo. He quietly said, "there's more like this if you're interested." He took me to the spot. I looked at him calmly (I least I thought I was calm) and said, "we're going to need a buggy." He is still proud to say, "I found that" when it's admired.

Late one afternoon my sister & I were in Columbia when we saw a cool treasure being thrown into a dumpster. We stopped to ask if we could have it. With a skeptical look (wondering, no doubt, how we would get such a large item into my tiny car), we were told we could have it. He obviously didn't know us very well.

We went home to swap my car for hubby's truck & we went dumpster diving. When our cargo turned out to be longer than the truck bed, we called Mom & asked her to bring us duct tape & a tube sock & meet us at Bojangles's. She asked no questions, delivered our supplies, & we made it home safely. Never underestimate a pair of determined women.
