Celebrating Seniors, Enjoying Life & Laughter

VOLUME 10, ISSUE 39

SEPTEMBER 25, 2026

Is It Fall Yet?

The calendar says it's fall, but I'm not convinced. I did walk out to 66 degrees this morning, but it's scheduled to be 90 this afternoon. Wow! This summer has lasted forever. Let's at least talk fall. It might help...maybe...

Luke 7:23 ~ "Blessed are those who are not offended by me."

Things That Made Me Laugh

- My ducks are absolutely not in a row. One is on a side quest, one found a new hobby, one is hyper fixating on soup, one forgot why it came into the room, one is overcaffeinated, one is trying to keep up with the group chat, one is keeping track of its protein & steps, another is trying to keep calm & carry on, one keeps yelling, "this could have been an email," and I'm pretty sure one is a seagull.
- I've cooked for men I should have poisoned, so, yeah, I have self control.
- Would you maybe like to meet up somewhere in the words & just scream? We could get coffee after.

Things That Made Me Laugh

- I'd love to offer moral support but my morals are questionable at best.
- I don't rise and shine. I caffeinate and coordinate.
- Safety first. Just kidding, coffee first. Safety is like third or fourth.
- I love seeing people walk with a little smile on their face. Something good must have happened, maybe they got a cute text, flowers, or they threw their annoying coworker off a cliff. You just never know.

Pro tip: Use Southern Grandma speak at work to reduce conflict

Amateur: I can't attend the meeting.

MeMa Mode: love y'all, but I ain't joining that circus.

Amateur: I don't have the bandwidth.

MeMa Mode: I can't stir another pot without burning the whole kitchen down.

Amateur: Are you stupid?

MeMa Mode: Bless your heart sugar, but that ain't the brightest thing you've said today.

Amateur: stop taking credit for my work!

MeMa Mode: darlin' you brought a store-bought pie and said it was homemade.

Amateur: This meeting could have been an email.

MeMa Mode: we sure did gather a lot of people for one thought.
