Epiphany—More than just a Taylor Swift Song

January 6 is the church festival of the Epiphany of our Lord, which celebrates the arrival of the wise men to see the baby Jesus. As this day rarely falls on a Sunday, it has become one of the forgotten festivals of the church. This year it falls on a Saturday, so like most years it will not be celebrated on a Sunday. Some congregations move this festival to the following Sunday, but the majority do not because of other festival days. The arrival of the wise men (or kings) represents the world's involvement with the birth of the Messiah. Jesus did not just come for the Israelites, but for the whole world.

Not much is known about the travelers from the East. There may or may not have been three. Tradition says there were three wise men simply because they brought three gifts. The Bible records them "following a star", which leads many scholars to believe they were of the Zoroastrian faith. Zoroastrianism is an ancient monotheistic religion (like Judaism & Christianity) that also uses astronomy as part of their faith. They originate in the northwest corner of India, which is part of the Punjab region of India. This makes them from "the east". They depart from the pages of the Bible as quickly as they arrive. However, their visit still resonates in the church. A tradition of the church to celebrate this day at home is to "chalk" your doors. The pattern for this year is:

20 + C + M + B + 24

The letters represent the initials of the Magi: Caspar, Malchior, and Balthazar. They also abbreviate the Latin phrase, Christus mansionem benedicat: "May Christ bless the house." The "+" signs represent the cross, and the "20" at the beginning and the "24" at the end mark the year. This may be done above the door to your home with any color chalk.

The season following the Epiphany is a transitional time for the church. We move from birth towards Jesus' passion. The season includes the festival Sunday of the Baptism of our Lord (January 7th this year, which is why we can't move The Epiphany to this Sunday) and then includes "ordinary time", better known as the green season. This short season, which is not as long as the ordinary time that follows Pentecost, varies each year. This is because Easter is not a set date. Therefore there is a shifting amount of Sundays following the Epiphany. This year Easter is early (March 31), so we will only have a few Sundays following the Epiphany until we reach Lent.

Church Business

Lutherans celebrate the Transfiguration of our Lord as the Sunday before Ash Wednesday. That Sunday for us this year will be February 11, with Ash Wednesday occurring on February 14. Although this will seem like a short time, I hope that Epiphany can truly be that spiritual bridge for us from Christmas celebration to Easter resurrection.

Blessings!

Symbols of the Apostles

Have you ever noticed the symbols around the doors in the sanctuary and wondered what they meant? Here is the simple explanation.

ST. PETER

The keys refer to the keys of Heaven, and the inverted cross refers to Peter's crucifixion.

ST. JOHN "THE BELOVED"

This symbol refers to the legend of a poisoned chalice offered to St. John in an attempt to end his life.

ST. JAMES THE GREATER

St. James was the first to go on a missionary journey. The scallop shells represent pilgrimage.

ST. ANDREW

According to tradition, St. Andrew was crucified on an X-shaped cross.

ST. JAMES THE LESSER

According to tradition, St. James was stoned and sawn by his attackers.

ST. MATTHEW

The moneybags refer to the occupation of St. Matthew before he was called by Christ.

ST. THOMAS

The ruler refers to the tradition that St. Thomas built a church by hand. The spear refers to his martyrdom.

ST. JUDE

St. Jude (also known as Thaddeus) sailed to many ports as he journeyed as a missionary.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW

It is said that St. Bartholomew was flayed and crucified.

ST. SIMON

St. Simon, companions with St. Jude, was a fisherman by trade, but also known as a great fisher of men.

ST. PHILIP

Jesus directed St. Philip to feed His people, represented here by two circles of bread.

ST. MATTHIAS

St. Matthias was chosen to replace Judas Iscariot. The axe refers to his martyrdom.

Why Sunday School is Important

Does studying God's Word really impact our daily lives and decisions? David Davis, a missionary in Brazil knows so. David was active in Sunday School, Youth, Scouts at St. Peter's and the FCA and RUF campus ministries at Clemson. He credits staying close to the Word as giving him awareness of God calling him.

David was studying for his masters in engineering when he hit a brick wall: his proposals for his master's project were rejected. During this time, God had him remember when he first understood the Gospel message as a small child; reading The Bible Story books in doctors' offices. He realized God gave him his talents and time not to just travel the engineering path, but to help other people and show what Jesus did. David figured it was God's way of telling him to change his master's to something more people-oriented, so in faith he withdrew from that engineering program.

He knew this step-in faith was correct when God immediately lifted a big weight from him. And two weeks later God presented David, not with a better fitting academic field, but a call to missions! David now saw that God had been preparing him for a different type of work ever since childhood, so he accepted the call in faith. As a throw-back to his earliest Sunday school lessons "I'll go where God wants; no need to send a BIG fish after me!"

Almost immediately the decision to follow his call was tested by none other than the university president. In gratitude for what Jesus had already done, David remained firm on his new path, and a few months later God providentially led David to a Discover Missions conference in North Carolina where he saw the match for his calling with the Appropriate Technology Institute – a department of United World Mission later becoming Equip International. The excitement of a match, though, was tempered by hearing how many years the process normally takes to start training. But God again confirmed David's path when in just two weeks a letter to close friends asking for prayer generated commitments for half of his support from them and their parents: all wanting to express thanks for how he had impacted them by modeling servant leadership. David chuckles that when you give the steering wheel to God, you better fasten your seat-belt!
