I have been procrastinating writing this article for at least two weeks, as I have not been able to think of a subject. I have also been doing a lot of thinking lately about prayer, specifically my personal prayers. I have been incorporating new aspects in my daily prayers and really trying to improve the meaning and depth of simple things like the blessing of a meal. I pray that God uses me as a vessel to show himself through me and as a tool to further His Kingdom.

When reading the Gospel according to Luke, specifically Luke chapter 5, I realize I am praying that God uses me to truly be a "Fisher of Men". While pondering the text, the song Livin' On A Prayer by Bon Jovi got stuck in my brain. Instead of the lyric "Tommy used to work on the docks", I eventually changed it to "Simon used to work on the docks". In my brain, I half rewrote the song to fit the 5th chapter of Luke and while I am still procrastinating about this article, it dawns on me that I am just like Tommy and Gina in the song and am "Livin' on a Prayer".

When Jesus called his disciples, they were halfway there. Jesus calls us by name, as if saying, "take my hand and we'll make it, I swear, ohhhh, livin' on a prayer".

He is the way and the light of the world. If we are half way, Jesus will lead us the rest.

I am truly blessed to be part of a caring and compassionate congregation. Knowing that I was in your prayers brought me great peace and hope.

March Book Club

Book: Orphan Train by Christina Baker Kline

Discussion: Thursday, March 27th @ 6:30 pm in Gathering Room

A captivating story of two very different women who build an unexpected friendship: a 91-year-old woman with a hidden past as an orphan-train rider and the teenage girl whose own troubled adolescence leads her to seek answers to questions no one has ever thought to ask.

Nearly eighteen, Molly Ayer knows she has one last chance. Just months from "aging out" of the child welfare system, and close to being kicked out of her foster home, a community service position helping an elderly woman clean out her home is the only thing keeping her out of juvie and worse.

Vivian Daly has lived a quiet life on the coast of Maine. But in her attic, hidden in trunks, are vestiges of a turbulent past. As she helps Vivian sort through her possessions and memories, Molly discovers that she and Vivian aren't as different as they seem to be. A young Irish immigrant orphaned in New York City, Vivian was put on a train to the Midwest with hundreds of other children whose destinies would be determined by luck and chance.

The closer Molly grows to Vivian, the more she discovers parallels to her own life. A Penobscot Indian, she, too, is an outsider being raised by strangers, and she, too, has unanswered questions about the past. As her emotional barriers begin to crumble, Molly discovers that she has the power to help Vivian find answers to mysteries that have haunted her for her entire life - answers that will ultimately free them both.

Rich in detail and epic in scope, Orphan Train is a powerful novel of upheaval and resilience, of second chances, of unexpected friendship, and of the secrets we carry that keep us from finding out who we are.

Is The orphan train a true story?

Yes, the Orphan Train Movement was a real program that transported children from the East to the Midwest between 1854 and 1929. The program was a supervised welfare system that relocated children to foster homes in rural areas.

- The program was founded by Charles Loring Brace, a city missionary in New York City.
- The children were often from poor families or were the children of new immigrants.
- The children were often traumatized and had no idea where they were going.
- The children were often indentured to their host families after a brief trial period.
