WEEKLY GIGGLES

Yes, they are corny, but to me, Dad Jokes are some of the greatest things around. As the 8th anniversary of my Dad's death approaches, here are a few of my favorites from The King of Corn.

- A chicken crossing the road is called poultry in motion.
  - She was only a whiskey maker, but he loved her still.
  - A rubber band pistol was confiscated from algebra class because it was a weapon of math disruption.
  - The butcher backed into the meat grinder and got a little behind in his work.
  - No matter how much you push the envelope, it'll still be stationary.
  - A dog gave birth to puppies near the road and was cited for littering.
  - A grenade thrown into a kitchen in France would result in Linoleum Blownapart.
  - Two silk worms had a race. They ended up in a tie.
  - When cannibals ate a missionary, they got a taste of religion.
  - I don't trust stairs. They're always up to something.
  - I read that by law you must turn on your headlights when it's raining in Sweden, but how am I supposed to know when it's raining in Sweden?
  - I was addicted to the hokey pokey, but I turned myself around.
- What do you call a hippie's wife? Mississippi
  - I sold our vacuum cleaner. It was just gathering dust.
  - What did the evil chicken lay? Deviled eggs.
  - I want to go on record that I support farming. As a matter of act, you could call me protractor.
  - Why did the man name his dogs Rolex and Timex? Because they were watch dogs.
  - A brain walks into a bar and takes a seat. "I'd like some wings and a pint of beer, please," he says. "Sorry, but I can't serve you," the bartender replies. "You're out of your head."

Dad gave me the greatest gift anyone could give another person: He believed in me.
