

GOLDEN AGERS

Celebrating Seniors, Enjoying Life & Laughter

VOLUME 10, ISSUE 16

APRIL 17, 2026

It's Gonna Be A Fun Week!

There are some cool things to celebrate this week and several of them reminded me of movies. Since we also have Movie Theatre Day, perhaps we should watch a couple of these.

It's National Princess Week. That makes me think of several movies. The TV movie version of Cinderella out in 1965 was my childhood favorite. You couldn't just watch it whenever you wanted to. No, you had to wait until CBS or NBC or whoever decided to show it. It had wonderful music by Rogers & Hammerstein, so of course my parents bought me the book with the music so I played it and sang it all the time. Yes, I still remember the words to all of the songs (which is probably one reason my brain is full & I can't remember other stuff).

The 19th is National Poker Day. There are lots of movies about this—Maverick, Oceans 11, 12, 13...lots of them.

The 20th is Pot Smokers Day so, of course you'll need to watch Cheech & Chong's Up In Smoke.

The 21st is Kindergarten Day, so the Schwarzenegger movie Kindergarten Cop is a must see. It is a cute movie. If you haven't seen it, I highly recommend it. Crime & wrangling 5-year-olds. FUN!

April 25th, being the perfect date "not too hot, not too cold. All you need is a light sweater" makes watching Miss Congeniality almost mandatory.

But the point is Movie Theatre Day. When was the last time you saw a movie in the theatre? When we were kids, Gone With the Wind was shown in theatres in celebration of the 40th anniversary of its release. Mom insisted that we go, saying "there are certain movies you must see on the big screen." She was certainly right about this one. The scene at the train depot cannot be fully appreciated on a small screen.

Talk Like Shakespeare Day Ideas

Instead of "Hush!" Say, "Silence thyself."

Instead of "What is wrong with you?" Say,
"Art thou utterly bereft of sense?"

Instead of "Go to your room!" Say, "retreat to thy bed chambers this instant!"

Instead of "have you lost your mind?" Say
"you imbecile, have you misplaced your wits?"

Instead of "I don't care what she said about me." Say "I care not how a harlot forms her lips to speak falsehoods on my name."

Instead of "that's just my baby daddy." Say
"'tis merely the sire of my offspring."

Instead of "I can't." Say "render me unable!"

Instead of "mind your own business." Say "I grow curious and ponder on when wilt thou learn to refrain from involving thyself in matters beyond thine own?"

Instead of "who do you think you are?" Say
"who dost thou imagine thyself to be?"

Instead of "today is not the day." Say
"prithee, tempt me not upon this day."

Instead of "don't tick me off." Say "trifle me not, fiend."

Instead of "I'm on the way." Say "by and by,
with haste I come."

Instead of "I said what I said." Say "I proclaimed that which I proclaimed.
