Clotheslines and Easter Giggles

I can't believe we have a National Laundry Day! I'm very grateful to live in a time when I have machines that do the work for me on that front. MeMa used to tell me about getting her hair stuck in the wringer of her washer & I vividly remember helping hang clothes on the line. I was taught there was a proper way to do that. It must be neat & undies must be hung on the inside line so everybody in town didn't know your "business". I wonder what MeMa would have thought about this person in Pennsylvania who makes art out of the clothes on the line.

Ok, now on to the important stuff!

I WANT YOU TO FOLD UP MY BURIAL CLOTHES, WAIT FOR MARY, AND REMEMBER THAT THIS IS SERIOUS ... NO HIDING AND YELLING "BOO"

I am fairly certain this is the conversation Jesus would be having with me if I would on tomb duty that morning.
