

GOLDEN AGERS

Celebrating Seniors, Enjoying Life & Laughter

VOLUME 9, ISSUE 34

AUGUST 22, 2025

August is Almost Over!

We sat down today and put things on the calendar. Yes, an old-fashioned paper calendar. We coordinated all of our stuff for the rest of 2025 and got to August 2026 before we broke for lunch.

I have always kept a paper calendar. I enjoy looking back at a month to see what happened. I love having, at a glance, what happened last month or even last year.

My last calendar had 2023, 2024, and 2025 all in one place. My new calendar has 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, & 2030 all between two hard covers. It's glorious!

I never cease to be amazed at how folks forget how we did things from one year to the next. You can't imagine how helpful it is to have several years in one place for reference. Did we do that last year? What time was that? Was that on the 2nd Sunday or the 3rd Sunday?

Trust me. It's wonderful! We always think we'll remember, but we don't. The biggest lie I tell myself is, "I don't have to write that down. I'll remember it." Yeah...right.

Things That Made Me Laugh This Week

- "In-Style" are the clothes that still fit me.
- I don't need anger management. I need people to stop ticking me off.
- My people skills are just fine, it's my "tolerance for idiots" that needs a bit of work.
- "On time" is when I get there.
- Growing old should have taken longer.
- I still haven't learned to act my age.
- One for the road means, going to the bathroom before I leave the house.
- A man is suing Smart Water for not making him smart. I'd like to formally announce my lawsuit against Thin Mints.
- Marriage is understanding your wife is a calm & sweet person unless she didn't get enough sleep, is hot, hungry, thirsty, anxious or having to deal with people.

Out of Office Messages

- I'm currently out of the office, out of patience, & out of coffee. I'll respond when at least one of those things returns.
- If you're reading this, I'm unavailable. If this is an emergency, dial 9-1-1. Otherwise, sit tight & simmer down.
- I'm currently away from my desk and my responsibilities. Don't worry. I'm just as shocked as you are.
- Out of the office until Tuesday. If you need a miracle before then, try prayer.
- I'm currently out of the office, probably living my best life or napping. Either way, you'll survive.
- I'm currently out of the office recharging my "dealing with people" battery. It's a slow charge, so please be patient.
