

Golden Agers Rock!

CELEBRATING SENIORS MAKING THE BEST OF THE REST OF THEIR LIVES

VOLUME 5, ISSUE 36

SEPTEMBER 3, 2021

Golden Age Sunday is Almost Here!

Don't forget to call and let me know if you are planning to join us for Golden Age Sunday—September 12th. Barry is cooking lunch for ALL of us & he needs a headcount. I have people lined up to bring you if you don't drive or if you need a ride. If you are not comfortable coming out, let us bring lunch to you! Delivery is also available! We truly miss all of you!

There are some really interesting days to celebrate this week and, as you may guess, I have some comments on some of them.

Be Late for Something Day. Now, I learned a long time ago, in marching band, that if you're on time, you're late. If that's true, I know plenty of people who are late for something every day of their lives. I don't like being late. Maybe it's FOMO (Fear Of Missing Out). I don't like to miss stuff that's important to me. And since the 5th is a Sunday, I'm pretty sure I won't be late for anything. Ok, maybe I'll be late for lunch, but I always eat at 1 pm on Sunday, so...

Yard Art Day. Many years ago, my mom and I went to a lecture by Steve Bender aka "The Grumpy Gardener", who was, at the time, the senior gardening editor for Southern Living magazine. The title of his talk was "Yard Art". We laughed until our sides hurt at the crazy things people would do to their yards and call it "landscaping" or worse yet, "art". Steve shared his unique outlook and actually convinced me that as long as it makes you smile, it's okay! The other thing I learned was that if you plant the right size bush or tree for a spot you'll never have to prune it. Sounds like a great plan to me!

School Picture Day. I don't know about you, but I have some really bad school pictures out there, so we can just skip this one if that's okay with y'all.

Wonderful Weirdoes Day. As a person who happens to know a TON of people that fit this particular category, I am intrigued by this celebration. According to my research, "This is a day to celebrate being different, strange and AWESOME! If anyone ever called you weird, this is your day to call them up and invite them to celebrate your unique weirdness!" Hmm...okay...so expect a phone call or two from your weird friends...or maybe from me. 😎

WEEKLY GIGGLES

Now for the important stuff...

The Week of Sept. 5-11 is:

- National Waffle Week
- Play Days
- Popcorn Days
- Mushroom Days

Some celebrations only last a day:

- 5th- International Bacon Day
Bowling League Day
Be Late for Something Day
- 6th- Great Bathtub Race
Yard Art Day
- 7th- Grandma Moses Day
Salami Day
“Neither Snow nor Rain” Day
- 8th- Iguana Awareness Day
National Ampersand Day
- 9th- Buy a Priest a Beer Day
National School Picture Day
National Teddy Bear Day
Opposite Day
Wonderful Weirdoes Day
- 10th- Hug Your Boss Day
National TV Dinner Day
Swap Ideas Day
- 11th- Banana Day
Drive Your Studebaker Day
National Hollerin’ Day
Patriot Day

Have a great week & call if you need anything!

Serving Him & Loving it!

Carol 😊

Pastor Bill 901-569-1428
Pastor Cassie 678-492-3956
Carol 803-360-7137

Betty Lou commented that she hadn't seen Cody in a while, so here he is at 5 1/2 months.

