Crunch Time or Awkward Pause?

Here we are at the weird time of year between Thanksgiving and Christmas. You're either done decorating and shopping or you're running around like a crazy person trying to get it all done.

That means it's time for "Quotes From Kids". Those strange, deep, and funny observations made by the young ones in our lives.

- I know how babies are made; what I don't know is why. ~ Henry, age 6
- I don't want to go to school today. I already know 12 letters & I'll leave some for the other kids. ~ Kay, age 4
- Sometimes I wish I was a worm. I don't have to deal with people & can just be a worm. ~ Raymond, age 6
- I don't know if today is Monday or yesterday. ~ Ben, age 7
- You know, wind is basically just sky gas. ~ Parker, age 7
- I want to be a garbage truck when I grow up. ~ Carl, age 2
- I just want to let you know that I won't be on my best behavior today because I'm tired. ~ Freddie, age 8
- Don't have kids. Have parties. ~ Hanna, age 8
- I have a crush on a boy, so when I see him I scream & run away. ~ Edna, age 8
- I don't want to do work. I'm tired and you're not respecting my tired. ~ Harry, age 5
- I love you so much, but I have a headache from you, so give me a hug & please go away. ~ Ed, age 4
- I wanna go on a real date where you get one milkshake and two straws & share it with someone. ~ Elena, age 5
- Would it be weird if I married a cake? ~ Lila, age 4
- Valentine's Day is for stupid people who like other stupid people. ~ Fred, age 8
- Before I snuggle you I always check first to make sure you're warm. You always are. ~ Rick, age 4
- I had an argument with my parents because they didn't get that I just needed to stay home in my pajamas today. ~ Elaine, age 6
- How about we pretend I'm allergic to people and I don't talk to anyone for the rest of the day. ~ Ellie, age 5
- Tears are coming out of my eyes & I don't know why. ~ Michael, age 4
- I'm trying not to wander into other parts of my brain right now. ~ Ingrid, age 8
- I'll be honest, I don't even know what we're doing right now. ~ James, age 8
